Travel back in time with a visit to the Arizona Renaissance Festival

Western Group Tour Magazine

Groups can be transported back to the 16th century at the annual Arizona Renaissance Festival, one of the largest in the U.S. The festival will be held below the foothills of the Superstition Mountains every Saturday and Sunday from February 8th through March 30th (including Presidents' Day Monday, February 17th).

The festival re-creates a European-style country fair filled with an agreeable rabble of knights, rogues, royalty and craftsmen — all roaming throughout a 30-acre, charm-filled village with 200 quaint shops, 13 stages of nonstop entertainment, an arena for full-contact armored jousting, kitchens, pubs and people-powered games and rides.

Characters in Renaissance garb populate the festival.

Foolish pleasures mix with artisan treasures as group members shop, eat and revel, with a cast of nearly 2,000 colorfully costumed characters, actors, dancers and musicians. These are the people who populate the bustling fair to ensure a good time for the nearly 260,000 visitors, who mingle with the characters creating wacky and unpredictable medieval mayhem.

Live jousting tournaments are among the festival's most popular attractions. Held three times daily, the tourneys come complete with knights on charging horses, clanging weapons and a great deal of braggadocio.

The re-created 16th-century festival is home to many traditions, including chomping down on a giant roasted turkey leg. It also features demonstrations of time-honored crafts such as weaving, glass blowing, blacksmithing, and pottery throwing.

Another special event within this giant fair is The Pleasure Feast. This one and a half-hour, five-course medieval feast features live music and comedy entertainment, all you can eat and drink, plus festival souvenir. With limited seating twice daily, advance feast reservations are recommended.

Groups of 15 or more are eligible for reduced admission on tickets ordered at least two days in advance.
